Methodological note to the Transparency Report concerning the publication of data on collaboration between the pharmaceutical industry and healthcare professionals (HCPs) and healthcare organisations (HCOs)

BERLIN – CHEMIE/ MENARINI POLSKA limited liability company

In fulfilment of its obligations under the Code of Conduct of the European Federation of Pharmaceutical Industries and Associations (EFPIA), as well as under the local Transparency Code of the Association of Innovative Pharmaceutical Companies (INFARMA), Berlin-Chemie-Menarini Polska sp. z o.o., with its registered office in Warsaw, ul. Słomińskiego 4, 00-204 Warsaw, KRS: 0000057038, NIP: 5212405282 (hereinafter: “the Company” or “Berlin-Chemie”) has prepared and is publishing this methodological note (“the Note”). The Note summarises the methodology used by the Company in preparing disclosures and identifying transfers of value in the Transparency Report (“Report”) published by the Company.

Healthcare professionals (HCPs) and healthcare organisations (HCOs) with whom Berlin-Chemie, part of the MENARINI Group—a leading Italian pharmaceutical group with a global reach—collaborates, provide the pharmaceutical industry with valuable, independent and expert knowledge derived from their clinical and management experience. As custodians of scientific knowledge and experts in the field of medicinal products, pharmaceutical companies can be a unique asset to healthcare systems and providers, ultimately benefiting patients. Collaboration between the pharmaceutical industry and representatives of the medical community is a natural part of the healthcare system. It occurs and is essential at all stages of drug development, from clinical trials to the sharing of best clinical practice and the exchange of information on their use once medicines are available to patients.

These interactions, in addition to being governed by national and international regulations, are based on mutual respect for the roles played within a transparent framework of ethical principles and INFARMA/EFPIA regulations, which establish rigorous control measures.

The EFPIA Code of Practice (and, as part of its local implementation, the INFARMA Code of Good Practice) constitutes a self-regulatory framework for innovative pharmaceutical companies, which companies belonging to the MENARINI Group are obliged to adhere to. It sets out the principles governing collaboration between pharmaceutical companies and the medical community, as well as the rules for disclosing information about this collaboration to healthcare professionals and healthcare organisations, with the aim of increasing the transparency of pharmaceutical companies' collaboration with the medical community and fostering an understanding of this collaboration and recognition of its value for patient care. Information on its scope and value is made public once a year in response to public expectations regarding the transparency of the industry's activities.

Professional collaboration between pharmaceutical companies and healthcare professionals takes place across various areas of activity. These include, amongst others, scientific consultations, research and development activities, and scientific events and conferences.

Berlin-Chemie hereby confirms that the information it discloses on transfers of value (ToV) covers both direct and indirect transfers of value, as defined in the EFPIA Code of Practice and the associated guidelines issued by EFPIA. This note describes the process used to compile the data disclosed in the Report on Transfers of Value to Healthcare Professionals and Healthcare Organisations. As part of this process, steps are taken to ensure the individual disclosure of information on transfers of value to HCPs and HCOs. Aggregate disclosures are limited to those HCPs who cannot be disclosed individually for legal reasons, in particular to ensure compliance with data privacy obligations.

We present this Note to facilitate understanding of the published data and the principles governing its identification.

1. Definitions

The following provides additional information to aid understanding of the data presented in the Report:

1. Medicinal product: has the meaning assigned by the provisions of the Act of 6 September 2001 – Pharmaceutical Law, subject to the proviso that, in this Note, this term refers exclusively to a product dispensed solely on the basis of a doctor's prescription, intended for use in humans, and denotes a substance or mixture of substances, presented as having properties for the prevention or treatment of diseases in humans, or administered for the purpose of making a diagnosis or for the purpose of restoring, correcting or modifying physiological functions of the body through pharmacological, immunological or metabolic action.
2. Recipients: Any Healthcare Professional (HCP) or Healthcare Organisation (HCO) whose profession or principal activity is carried out, or whose principal registered office or place of incorporation is situated, within the European Territory, to whom benefits (Transfers of Value) have been provided, either directly or indirectly:

The following are also recognised as Healthcare Professionals: (i) officials or employees of an administrative body, organisation or institution operating in the public or private sector, which may procure, supply (excluding wholesalers) or administer medicinal products, provided that such persons are involved in the process of procuring, supplying or administering medicinal products; and (ii) persons employed by member companies (entities) of the EFPIA / INFARMA on the basis of an employment contract or a contract under civil law, whose primary occupation is the performance of the professions specified in points (1) and (2) of sub-paragraph (a) above, excluding, however, (3) all other employees of such a company (entity) and (4) wholesalers or distributors of medicinal products;

- b. Healthcare Organisation (HCO): any entity: (1) which is a healthcare facility, a medical organisation or a scientific organisation in the field of health or medicine (regardless of its organisational and legal form), such as hospitals, clinics, foundations, universities (higher education institutions), specialist and training schools, other educational institutions or scientific societies (with the exception of patient associations/organisations), or (2) any entity through which services are provided by (one or more) Healthcare Professionals, with its registered office, principal place of business or place of incorporation within Europe. Businesses engaged in the wholesale or retail trade of medicinal products are not considered to be Healthcare Organisations;

Disclosure of Transfers of Value made to retired and deceased Healthcare Professionals: The Company publishes both ToVs made to retired HCPs and deceased HCPs in accordance with the consent obtained for the publication of such data.

3. Transfer of value (ToV): economic transfers (benefits) provided by the Company, whether direct or indirect, in the form of cash, benefits in kind or other forms of consideration, made for promotional purposes or for the development and commercialisation of medicinal products intended exclusively for human use.
4. ToV related to research and development activities: ToV provided to Healthcare Professionals or Healthcare Organisations in connection with the planning or conduct of (1) non-clinical studies (as defined in the OECD Guidelines for Good Laboratory Practice), (2) clinical trials (as defined in Regulation (EU) No 536/2014 of 16 April 2014 on clinical trials on medicinal products for human use and repealing Directive 2001/20/EC) and (3) prospective non-interventional studies, involving the collection of patient data by Healthcare Professionals;
5. European territory – covers those countries in which the relevant codes of conduct of the organisation (analogous to the INFARMA Code of Good Practice) have been implemented by the local EFPIA member organisation.
6. Events – professional, promotional, scientific or educational meetings, congresses, conferences, symposia and other similar events, including, but not limited to, advisory committee meetings, visits to research facilities and manufacturing sites, meetings with researchers, and meetings devoted to planning, training and other matters relating to clinical or non-interventional trials, organised or sponsored by or on behalf of the Company.

2. Scope of disclosure

1. Products covered by the report: the report published by the Company contains ToV relating exclusively to prescription-only medicinal products.
2. Company concerned: the data covers ToVs provided by Berlin-Chemie/Menarini Polska sp. z o.o., with its registered office in Warsaw, to HCPs and HCOs having their registered office, principal place of business or place of incorporation in Poland.
3. Date of the ToV – as a general rule, the date of the ToV is deemed to be the date on which the benefit was actually provided to the Recipient (understood as the date on which the ToV was actually provided by the Company to or on behalf of the relevant Recipient), i.e. in particular in the case of:
 - a. remuneration for services and consultancy – the date on which the cost is actually incurred by the Company (the date of payment),
 - b. additional expenses related to contracts concluded with HCPs, including, amongst others, travel and accommodation costs – the date of the Event. In the case of Events lasting more than one day – the date of the Event's conclusion.

- c. Transfers of funds to HCO or third parties designated by HCO for the organisation of Events – the date on which the cost is actually incurred by the Company (date of payment),
 - d. Covering costs in connection with Events (registration fees, travel and accommodation costs) – the date of the Event. In the case of Events lasting more than one day – the date on which the Event ends.
4. ToV – general principle: subject to the information set out in this Note, the report publishes information on Direct Transfers of Value or Indirect Transfers of Value made to or for the benefit of Recipients. As a general rule, the Company, where possible, identifies and publishes data at the level of the individual Healthcare Professional (rather than the HCO).
 5. Direct ToV: a direct transfer is one made directly by the Company for the benefit of a Recipient.
 6. Indirect ToV: an indirect transfer is one carried out on behalf of the Company to a Recipient, including a transfer made through a third party, provided that the identity of the Recipient is known to the Company or can be easily ascertained by it. If the transfer of value was made indirectly to an individual HCP via a healthcare organisation or a third party, this information will be disclosed individually, where possible, and only once.

In the case of benefits provided to an HCO via a third party, the ToV is published with the HCO specified as follows: third party (on behalf of: HCO).

7. Exemption from the obligation to disclose ToV. The following categories of benefits are not subject to disclosure in the report:
 - a. Transfers of value relating to medicinal products available without a prescription,
 - b. Transfers of value not listed in points 8–9 below, such as, in particular, items intended for the practice of medicine, meals and drinks, and medical samples; or
 - c. benefits forming part of the normal procedure for the purchase and sale of medicinal products by the Company to a Healthcare Professional or a Healthcare Organisation, including, amongst other things, rebates, discounts or other commercial incentives.

The reporting also excludes commission amounts paid to logistics agencies.

8. Individual disclosures: except as expressly set out in this Note, information on Transfers of Value is provided on an individual basis, ensuring appropriate accuracy, consistency and compliance with applicable laws. The Company discloses information on Transfers of Value which it can reasonably classify into the categories set out below, by attributing to each identifiable Recipient an amount corresponding to the value of Transfers of Value made to that Recipient during the relevant reporting period. Information concerning Transfers of Value made to a given Recipient is presented broken down into individual categories.

Categories of transfers of value:

- in the case of Transfers of Value to Healthcare Organisations:
 - 1) Donations and grants. Donations and grants provided to HCOs to support healthcare, including donations and grants (in cash or in kind) provided to institutions, organisations or associations comprising HCPs or which provide healthcare services.
 - 2) Reimbursement of costs in connection with Events. Reimbursement of costs in connection with Events, made through HCOs or third parties, including support for HCPs' participation in Events (where such benefits cannot be attributed to individual HCPs), including, amongst other things, registration fees, sponsorship agreements with HCOs or third parties designated by the HCO to organise the Event in question, and travel and/or accommodation costs.

Indirect ToV (sponsorship of Events via third parties – professional Event organisers) is disclosed in the relevant column of the Report under the category 'Sponsorship agreements with HCOs or third parties designated by HCOs to organise the Event'. Disclosure is made under the name of the direct Recipient, i.e. the name of the party to the sponsorship agreement. Healthcare organisations that indirectly benefit from the sponsorship are listed in brackets next to the Recipient's name. In such cases, the disclosed amounts should not always be regarded in their entirety as indirect benefits to the HCO (e.g. the Recipient may receive a fee for the service). Where a third party acting as a professional event organiser (PCO) is the only organiser of the Event known to the Company, and the Company has no information regarding the HCOs and HCPs participating in the Event, this information will be disclosed in brackets for each HCO/HCP, alongside the amounts transferred and disclosed to the PCO, which is their recipient. The Company notes that part of the ToV was transferred to the accounts of so-called logistics organisers, i.e. entities specialising in the professional organisation of Events.

The aggregate disclosure for each category of Transfers of Value specifies: (1) the number of Recipients to whom such disclosure relates, expressed in absolute terms and as a percentage of all Recipients who received Transfers of Value from the Company during the relevant reporting period; and (2) the total amount corresponding to the value of the Transfers of Value provided to such Recipients.

 - c. for HCPs: place of business/place where the main practice is carried out,
 - d. identification number (optional): for HCOs: tax identification number (NIP); for HCPs: professional licence number (NPWZ).
2. HCPs conducting business activities in their own name: such HCPs are classified as natural persons, not as HCOs, and transfers of value made to such HCPs are subject to the general rules on disclosure, depending on whether the relevant consent to the publication of data has been given (individual or collective disclosure, direct or indirect).
3. Multi-year contracts: In the case of multi-year contracts (where applicable to the Company's operations), the relevant transfers of value made in a given calendar year are published only once, in the year following that in which the transfer of value took place.

4. Country-specific considerations: none.
5. Quality controls: The Company employs a multi-stage process for verifying data subject to disclosure in reports. Data is collected from documentation properly maintained by the Company and is then verified for completeness and accuracy by designated personnel within the Company, in accordance with applicable procedures. Prior to the publication of the report, a final quality control check is carried out, covering in particular compliance with the Company's documentation and the correct classification of disclosure categories in accordance with the provisions of this Methodological Note, the EFPIA Code and the INFARMA Transparency Code.

4. Legal basis for data processing

1. Consent to the processing of personal data and the disclosure of individual data transfers: The Company obtains the HCP's consent to the processing of the HCP's data and the publication of transfers of value made to the HCP. If an HCP does not consent to the publication of such data on an individual basis (i.e. with the HCP's personal data identified in the report), the Company publishes data on transfers of value in aggregate form. The Company ensures that HCPs can exercise their rights relating to the Company's processing of personal data for EFPIA reporting purposes, including the right to withdraw consent. If an HCP exercises this right, the Company must comply with the request without delay, and at the latest within 30 days of receiving notification of the withdrawal of consent, by publishing a new Report without the HCP's data in the individual section and including it in aggregate form.
2. Partial consent: The Company does not have a procedure in place to allow for partial consent to the publication of data.
3. Obtaining consent for the disclosure of data on transfers of value in relation to HCOs: as legal entities, Healthcare Organisations, including their subcontractors, are informed of the Company's transparency reporting obligations. Transfers of value relating to interactions with HCOs are disclosed on an individual basis. Transfers of value relating to research and development activities, subject to the exceptions set out in the Note, are disclosed by the Company in aggregate form.
